

Nara Chandrababu Naidu's Implements TDP Schemes for Minority Upliftment In AP.

The Telugu Desam Party (TDP) government led by Shri. Nara Chandrababu Naidu has implemented several minority welfare schemes in Andhra Pradesh to uplift the socio-economic conditions of the minority communities in the state. These TDP schemes have been designed to provide education, employment, and healthcare facilities to the minority communities, especially Muslims and Christians.

The former TDP government has launched several TDP policies and TDP schemes for the welfare of minorities in Andhra Pradesh. One of the major schemes is the Shaadi Mubarak Scheme, which provides financial assistance of Rs. 50,000 to Muslim brides to meet the expenses of their marriage. This TDP scheme has benefited thousands of Muslim families in the state. This TDP development has been instrumental in increasing the enrollment of children from minority communities in schools.

Shri. Nara Chandrababu Naidu has also launched several skill development programs to provide employment opportunities to minority youth. The NTR Vidyonnathi Scheme provides free coaching to minority students for competitive exams like Civil Services, Banking, and other government jobs. The TDP government has also set up minority welfare corporations to provide loans and financial assistance to minority entrepreneurs. The TDP leaders have been actively involved in the implementation of these minority welfare schemes. They have organised several programs to create awareness among the minority communities about the TDP Agenda and schemes and the benefits they can avail of.
