BEST WAYS TO CLEAN WALLS INSIDE THE HOUSE
multicleaning.com.au

INTRODUCTION

Walls are exposed to various sources of dirt, dust, fingerprints, and stains over time, making it essential to adopt effective cleaning strategies. As a vital component of house cleaning routines, wall cleaning plays a pivotal role in maintaining the aesthetic and hygiene standards of your home.

MATERIALS USED

- Mild dish soap or gentle all-purpose cleaners
- Warm water
- Soft sponges or microfibre cloths
- Bucket
- Vacuum cleaner
- Ladder or step stool
- Soft towels

DUST AND VACUUMING

Dusting and Vacuuming interior walls should be done regularly. Our house cleaners in Sydney, use a vacuum cleaner with a brush attachment to remove dust, cobwebs, and loose dirt from the walls. This prevents smearing dirt while cleaning.

GENTLE CLEANING SOLUTION

Warm water and mild dish soap

For most painted walls, a mixture of warm water and a small amount of mild dish soap can work well. Use a soft sponge or cloth dipped in the solution to gently clean the walls.

White vinegar and water

A mixture of equal parts white vinegar and water can also be effective for cleaning walls. Vinegar is a natural cleaner that can help break down grease and stains.

DEALING WITH TOUGH MARKS

Our cleaners in Sydney provides deep house cleaning which includes scuff marks or more stubborn stains. Make a paste with baking soda and water. Apply the paste to the mark, let it sit for a few minutes, and then gently scrub with a soft cloth or sponge. Wipe away the residue with a clean, damp cloth.

CLEANING TEXTURED WALLS

Textured walls may require extra care. Our professionals of house cleaning company in Sydney use a soft brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner to remove dust and debris from crevices. For cleaning, avoid excessive scrubbing, as it can damage the texture.

DRYING THE WALLS

Properly drying the walls after cleaning is an essential step to maintain the integrity of your home's interior and prevent potential issues such as water damage and mold growth. After cleaning, use a dry, clean cloth to gently wipe down the walls and remove any excess moisture.

REGULAR CLEANING MAINTENANCE

- Regular cleaning maintenance, especially when it comes to the walls inside your house, plays a vital role in upholding the overall aesthetic and hygiene of your home.

- Regularly dust walls to prevent buildup of dirt and cobwebs.
