

COMMON CHALLENGES IN IMPLEMENTING ISO 22301

LACK OF EXECUTIVE SUPPORT

Without strong leadership commitment, it can be hard to secure the necessary resources and organizational focus on BCMS

RESISTANCE TO CHANGE

Employees may resist new processes or view BCMS implementation as additional workload, slowing adoption

POOR UNDERSTANDING OF REQUIREMENTS

Limited knowledge or misinterpretation of ISO 22301 standards leads to incomplete or ineffective implementation

INADEQUATE DOCUMENTATION AND RECORD KEEPING

Insufficient or disorganized documentation hinders compliance, audit readiness, and process consistency

INTEGRATION DIFFICULTIES

Aligning BCMS with existing corporate processes and systems can be complex, requiring effort to achieve synergy

RESOURCE CONSTRAINTS

Limited budget, personnel, and time often restrict thorough implementation & maintenance, especially in smaller organizations

INCONSISTENT TESTING AND EXERCISES

Organizations may not adequately test or update their business continuity plans, reducing their effectiveness during real incidents

INEFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

Poor internal communication can cause confusion regarding roles and expectations in continuity plans

MAINTAINING CERTIFICATION

Sustaining ISO 22301 certification through surveillance audits requires ongoing system maintenance and improvements, which can be challenging for organizations
