“Legacy”

Kipple is useless objects, like junk mail or match folders after you use the last match [...]

When nobody's around, kipple reproduces itself. For instance, if you go to bed leaving any kipple around your apartment, when you wake up the next morning there's twice as much of it. It always gets more and more.

Philip K. Dick — “Do Androids Dream of Electric Sheep”

The background image depicts a grand, multi-story Gothic-style building that has been abandoned and overtaken by nature. The structure features a prominent glass skylight roof, arched windows, and intricate stonework. The interior and exterior surfaces are heavily covered in moss, ferns, and other lush green plants, suggesting a long period of neglect. The lighting is soft and diffused, coming from the skylight, creating a mysterious and somewhat melancholic atmosphere. The overall scene is one of decay and the triumph of nature over human-made structures.

Broken Windows Theory

The background image is a dark, atmospheric scene of a ruined gothic city. In the foreground, a lone rider on a horse is seen from behind, walking away on a dirt path. The path leads towards a massive, crumbling stone structure. Two large, weathered statues of armored figures stand prominently on either side of a central arched doorway. The statues are heavily eroded, with missing pieces and a sense of age. The architecture is highly detailed with gothic elements like pointed arches and intricate carvings. In the distance, more of the city is visible under a heavy, overcast sky, with smoke or mist rising from the ruins. The overall mood is one of desolation and mystery.

Tout refaire

They did [...] the single worst strategic mistake that any software company can make:

They decided to rewrite the code from scratch.

— Joel Spolsky, “Things you should never do”

D'où vient le legacy?

A dark, atmospheric scene of a ruined, icy city. The architecture is classical, with columns and arches, but it's in a state of decay. Icicles hang from the structures, and the ground is covered in snow and rubble. In the background, there are glowing blue lights emanating from some of the buildings, creating a stark contrast with the dark, cold environment. The overall mood is one of desolation and mystery.

Pour être rapide,
il faut savoir ralentir
