

Top 10 Websites to Download Vector Graphics And Icons For Free?

Designers out there are always looking for cool stuff to make their designs awesome. Are you also looking for the same? The most important thing that you need to have as a designer is vector graphics. No matter if you are a graphic designer, animator, video editor, VFX artist, web designer, or UI & UX designer, you need vectors. Vectors help you a lot in your designing job. But where to find the best vectors? Well, we are here to help you with this.

This post is about free vector graphics. If you are looking for free vector graphics, then you are at the right place. Vector graphics are a widely used type of image. They are made up of shapes and lines and usually saved in a file with a .svg extension.

Vector graphics can be scaled to any size without losing quality, while raster images will blur when enlarged. The vector graphics tool Inkscape is free to use. A quick internet search will provide a range of free vector graphics you can download and use in your designs. Here we will let you know the top 10 websites to download vector graphics and icons for free.

What are Vector graphics?

Vector graphics are the future of web design. They are not pixel-based like raster graphics but instead contain mathematically defined shapes. This means that they are scalable without becoming pixelated or blurry. The vector graphics files use a "path" which defines the outline of the shape, then "points" for distances between each line segment in the path. Using these two components, computers can define complex shapes easily and quickly.

Why Are Vector Graphics Important?

Vector graphics are the best way to provide high-quality images with crisp lines that can be scaled up or down without any loss of quality. Vector graphics are made up of points, paths, and curves. This means that they can easily be reproduced at any size without losing their quality. Two types of vector graphics are SVG and PDF. SVG is a web-friendly vector format that is supported by most modern browsers while PDFs allow for vector art to be embedded in a document and viewed at any size without any loss in image quality.

List Of Websites For Vector Graphics

Following is the list of websites that you can use to download vector graphics for free. There are many ways to download free vector graphics. Many platforms are out there available for designers.

However, some of these websites are providing a limited number of vector graphics. To avail of the full version, you have to pay for the subscription or membership. But we are here to help you with this. We are not going to tell you about the paid websites. We will let you know only free websites that provide you with a variety of vector graphics free of cost. Let's dive into it to get the best websites to fuel your creativity and thrive online.

1. Pixabay

Pixabay is among the most popular and free-to-use platforms that offer you plenty of options to choose from. You can call it the most comprehensive illustration search engine that offers you more than 2 million royalty-free and copyright-free vector images. Whether you are a beginner or into designing for a while now, this website is your ultimate source of amazing images. The best part about this website is that it's easy to use, fast, and lets you download and use the images on the go.

This platform collects and hosts images from multiple platforms to give you the most comprehensive list of image options. As the website's overall interface is seamless and uncomplicated, it becomes an easier event for beginners to use it. All you need to do is search for the relevant keywords and you will get a massive list of graphics. The best part about Pixabay is that the stock images are free for commercial use so you have no worries about getting copyright notices.

2. unDraw

If you are working in the design domain for a while now, you must have heard about unDraw and the variety of images it offers to its users. This amazing platform offers you an endless variety of illustrations that fit your purpose seamlessly. In the past few years, unDraw has turned into a massive collection of illustrations that you won't find anywhere else.

Whether you run a business, a personal brand, or a startup, unDraw is an uncomplicated and resourceful platform to thrive online. The website is quite easy whether you are looking for images to deck up your application prototype or a real live version. The overall interface of unDraw is easy and you can also use it very easily with your phone.

Whether you need your content to look punchy, colorful, or subtle, unDraw has a massive collection that flourishes you online. The best part is that the majority of the illustrations available on these platforms are customization in terms of color combination.

3. Freepik

Freepik is among the established platforms that have got everything covered for you. It's a remarkable platform to search for both images and illustrations. This platform greets you with thousands of free vector images that are all set to impress your readers. Along with this, this platform also offers you brochures, greeting cards, PSAs, pamphlets, and many more to get started.

In addition, this platform also has a built-in editor in which you can edit your template and customize it on the go.

It's the best website to get thousands of images and is highly interactive to use. You can easily download illustrations from Freepik on various platforms like EPS, AI, SVG, and many more. As it's an open-source platform you can also create your own images and vectors for others to use. All you need to do is create an account and search for relevant keywords to get the desired graphics. As there is no need to give attributions to the images, using them becomes easier.

4. Openclipart

Openclipart is many individuals' favorite destination as it offers unique and never-seen-before illustrations that are ready to use on your website. It's an ultimate source to pick highly interesting cliparts available in a variety of colors, sizes, and aesthetics. All the clipart that you need are open for the public domain and anyone can use them without the hassle of copyrights. Even if you are custom designing your website and you need some unique elements, this website has got you covered.

You won't find these kinds of unique designs somewhere else and they are perfect to impress your audience. The best part about this platform is that the majority of the illustrations are created by their community of artists and you can publish your artwork as well. If you are looking for something unique and artistic rather than simple images and icons, then Openclipart is the perfect place to get started.

5. Flaticon

Who doesn't love flat icons on their websites as they look sleek, minimalistic, and give a unique look to the website? This platform is a goldmine to get amazing minimalistic illustrations for your website. To keep up with the modern trends, this website is a holy grail to stand apart from the rest and offer something unique.

You don't have to worry about the format as this website offers graphics in a variety of formats including, SVG, EPS, PSD, and Base64. All formats that you will ever need for your website are available on this platform. If you are planning to make your website more on a funky side to attract GenZ, you've got a lot of options for the same. In addition to this, Flaticon also offers its new UIcons that have specially created 2,000 vectors for mobile devices. Even if you are creating landing pages especially for mobile devices, Flaticon is your go-to platform for every requirement.

6. VectorStock

Vector stock is a massive platform that is loaded with a variety of vector illustrators that you will never run out of options. With more than 200,000 images in the database, you are free to choose from a wide range of categories and themes. This site has so many things to offer so that you don't have to jump back to another website.

Be it emblems, logos, monograms, and custom vectors, you have got a lot of things to choose from. The majority of the vectors available on the website are free to use and there is no public licensing fee to use those images. On the other hand, If you are looking for premium vector images, then VectorStock also has a comprehensive range of paid image collections. This website is your go-to option whether you are just starting out in the digital space or running your business for a while.

7. Vecteezy

We can call Vecteezy the biggest platform or the database for vector graphics. You will find a lot of variations in a single design so that you can pick the best one. Their collection is available in both free and paid categories so that it comes easier for both types of users. If you are looking for royalty-free images, they are easily available on this platform. In addition, they also offer pro license images that you can buy as per your requirements.

Vecteezy is the perfect platform that offers you the right balance of free and paid images that keep you going with your design journey. Compared to many other websites, this platform has a bigger database of around 650,000 images. So, you don't have to worry about running out of options for your website. Along with this, Vecteezy also has a wide range of stock videos that you can use to enhance the overall user experience.

8. The Noun Project

If you are looking for a platform that has over a million images to pick from, then The Noun Project is the perfect platform for you. The majority of the artworks and the illustrations are for public use. The unique design ranges from colorful punchy images to minimalistic icons for all requirements.

So whether you are creating an E-Commerce website and want to attract more visitors or you need icons for your personal branding website, The Noun Project has got you covered. The best part is that this platform also offers its own API that you can interrogate with your website, apps seamlessly and use them whenever you need. If your main design revolves around a minimalistic design theme, then The Noun Project has a lot of things to offer. Get creative with your illustrations and show something unique to your visitors.

9. Vector4Free

If you are getting started and you don't need thousands and millions of image collections then the Vector4Free platform is the best platform for you to get started. It's not big as many other websites but it indeed gets the job done for your project. The best part is that you will find a new vector design every week so you won't get bored with the same collection.

The best part is that the vectors are free and are available in various categories as it makes the searching easier. You can also search images through keywords. You will find images in various formats including CDR, PDF, SVG, EPS, and more. Whatever format works for you, go for it and use it right away.

10. Shutterstock

Everyone has heard about this platform and it has so many varieties of images to offer. You will never run out of options when you are on Shutterstock. This platform has over 50 million designs to choose from and every design is unique and impressive.

Various images and templates on this platform are free to use and it also offers a variety of tools for editing, file conversion, image resizer, and more.

Wrapping up

Get started with unique vector graphics and icons to make your website look unique and interactive. Pick any of the websites and get started with downloading amazing images. All these websites offer a wide range of free images and some of them also offer stock videos. Get started with unique vectors now.

About Author -

With over 13 years experience as a leader in digital marketing, Mansi Rana is Managing Director of EZ Rankings. Passionate about all things data; providing actionable business intelligence in digital, future tech; and venture bubbles categories for everyone, everywhere.

