I'd be interested to hear about if there are any accessibility factors to take into account with web components. Thanks!

Jordana

What are the biggest new/upcoming CSS rules that you are excited about? How do you think they are going to change the web?

Viktor

Two part question here. 1. Would you add anything to that list of soon-to-be features that you think will fundamentally change how we approach and write CSS? 2. How are you all planning to bring those things into your wheel-house?

Re:Ep508 - What's the journey of launching and maintaining a Web Developer Job Board? Could you elaborate on the best and worst parts? Anything totally unexpected?

Drew

Is it beneficial to use a web component when the content within that component is completely static?
