

Best Tourist Places to Visit in Birmingham

Birmingham is the second-largest city in Britain. This beautiful city was once known for its industrialization, but now, it is known for all of its beautiful attractions. So, if you love to travel and explore new places, Birmingham is the right place for you to visit at least once.

The city is a deep well of many historical adventures and contemporary sites to visit. Once in Birmingham, you will be confused about what to visit and drop since the time here is never enough.

So, look at the Best Tourist Places to Visit in Birmingham,

Victoria Square and the City Center

Victoria Square is in the heart of Birmingham. So, one can explore this path from the city center path. Victoria Square and the City Center hold a beautifully sculpted river and an auditorium is known as Symphony Hall.

Many great artists perform at this auditorium regularly. In addition, there are two memorials at Victoria Square. The first one is dedicated to Queen Victoria. Thomas Brock built it in 1901. However, the other memorial is dedicated to James Watt.

The Queen Victoria memorial, however, was recast by William Bloye in Bronze. These two memorials are the main attractions of Victoria Square. If you want to visit Birmingham, you need to make Spirit Airlines reservations.

Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery

Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery were built-in 1885. This museum is one of the finest museums in Britain. Birmingham Museum and Art Gallery hold many artifacts and sculptures that take you back to the history of Birmingham.

Additionally, it has coins, paintings, and other historical findings of Birmingham from the late 17th to early 19th century. This is a place to visit if you are into history and if exploring it excites you.

Birmingham Botanical Gardens

Are you a nature lover? Do you love to have moments of peace when you are on vacation? If the answer to these questions is a yes, you must go and visit the Botanical Gardens of Birmingham.

Moreover, this garden holds a collection of bonsai and rare species of tropical birds. This beautiful site will bring you closer to nature and will let you take those deep relaxing breaths away from your city life.

Cadbury World

For every chocolate lover, it is like a dream to visit a chocolate factory. Well, you can live this dream if you plan to visit Birmingham. The Cadbury World is a place for everyone.

Cadbury World promises visitors on their self-guided tours by making chocolates with expert rides for children and many other fun activities. You can actually see the making of your favorite Cadbury chocolate here. This is a magic land one must visit.

ThinkTank, Birmingham Science Museum

If you are from the science sector and have an eye for scientific discoveries and adventures, this is the place for you. Similarly, the science museum in Birmingham, named ThinkTank, lets you experience an interactive tour and science exhibits.

Of course, the museum has everything: cars, heavy chocolate-making machinery, steam engines, locomotives, and even aircraft. This is the place for every science fan out there.

National Sea Life Center

For someone who loves underwater life, this sea life center is a perfect place for you. The Thai center holds more than 200 species of marine life animals from around the globe. To make the experience more real, it likewise has an underwater tunnel for tourists.

It feels like you can be right beside the marine animals, and they are just a touch away. Along with that, they likewise put on shows of penguins having fun and have a 4D cinema where you get even close to marine life.

Additionally, you should Speak to a Live Person at Spirit Airlines and get the cheapest flight ticket to Birmingham.

Jewellery Quarter

This place is a collective street of more than 20 jewelry shops and goldsmiths. The main attraction of this place is the Museum of Jewellery Quarter. This museum lets the visitors experience the inside trade. Almost 40% of Britain's jewelry is from Jewellery Quarters.

Along with the museum, the street likewise has other attraction points. St. Paul's Square, Hall of Memory, and the Pen Museum are must-visits if you decide to take a walk in the Jewellery Quarter.

So, this place holds the history of the people who lost their lives during the Second World War, how pens were made in the back 19th century, and how jewelry is made in Britain. The place is a collection of many important parts of Britain's history.

Final Verdict: Birmingham is a place one must visit. A vacation to this adventurous city will make you experience everything. Be it the magic of a chocolate factory, marine life, scientific discoveries, history of pens and gold, and beautiful natural surroundings away from the city life.

Source URL: Best Tourist Places to Visit in Birmingham

See also: How do I Speak to a Live Person at Spirit Airlines?

Get in Touch with Spirit Airlines

Spirit Airlines customer service

How to Speak to a Spirit Airlines Representative?

