

Human Centered Branding

The Key to Marketing with Authenticity

NELA DUNATO

THERE ARE FUNDAMENTAL DIFFERENCES
THAT AFFECT HOW WE BRAND
SERVICES AS OPPOSED TO PRODUCTS.

- Services are custom created and delivered by one real person to another.
 - They can't be entirely automated.
 - Service businesses typically need fewer clients to remain profitable.

WE DON'T HAVE TO OPTIMIZE
MARKETING FOR GROWTH, WE NEED TO OPTIMIZE IT FOR SATISFACTION.

SOMETIMES NUMBERS DON'T TELL US THE WHOLE STORY.

Our Goal:

RECREATE THE EXPERIENCE OF
MEETING A CLIENT IN PERSON
THROUGH ONLINE MEDIA.

OUR CORE VALUES

SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP

In a modern economy, most adults spend the majority of their waking hours working. Doing so in a business that deeply reflects your values has profound positive ripple effects - it becomes an ongoing force for good. Our mission is to help midwife more businesses like this.

AWARENESS

Self awareness is an essential component to positive social impact and awareness of the state of others is key to lasting cultural change. It's essential to pay attention to the ecosystems we operate in and how we show up in those systems.

COMMUNITY

We are a dynamic global community of conscious entrepreneurs and business leaders. We are inclusive and communicate with each other daily. This connectivity and generosity as a community are the foundations of an extraordinary experience for members.

TRANSPARENCY

People need accurate information for both success and safety. Transparency facilitates informed decisions, strong collaborations and contributes to a much higher degree of genuine learning.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

The times we live in call for more than just stress reduction and "do less harm" measures. Inequality has been the status quo for too long. We recognize that cultivating diversity and inclusion are acts of healing. We actively pursue ways to speak out against oppression and repair the harm done.

ALIVENESS & SELF-CARE

We can only sustain business growth if we care for the humans involved. This includes ourselves, contractors, employees, clients and the people we source our products from. Compassion for self and others is essential in the process of creating the culture we aspire to.

My core values

I believe that successful professional relationships rest on a foundation of overlapping core values. Here are my core values, and how they affect my work.

Creativity

I craft original content with love and care that expresses my unique point of view, and I also encourage others to express themselves creatively. Our creations have intrinsic worth, regardless of whether people consider them “useful” or “needed”.

Freedom

I’m committed to respecting everyone’s freedom of choice and sovereignty, and encouraging people to make their own best choices. I refuse using manipulative business practices that impede people’s freedom of choice.

Individuality

I encourage my clients to express their individuality through their business and branding. I refuse to conform to the cultural expectations, and I support healthy rebellion.

Brilliance

I intentionally cultivate an atmosphere conducive to deep thought and inventive problem solving. I avoid forcing the creative process and stifling innovative thinking in order to push things out faster.

Compassion

I do my best to create conditions for authentic sharing and connecting with my audience and clients. I don’t avoid difficult conversations or gloss over uncomfortable topics because of shame.

Vision

If the world is to change for the better, we need to envision things that don’t exist, and that sometimes even seem impossible. I’m committed to trusting my vision and doing what it takes to make it a reality.
